

ANNUAL STAFF GIVES ELECTION RESULTS

By Virginia Seal
At last it can be told. Yes the event of the announcement of the annual elections has finally arrived. The people have been mystified as to the outcome since the election was held January 24 and 26. The election was by secret ballot, and before a candidate's name could be placed on the ballot, he must have had a petition signed by fifteen people.

The most surprised people are the winners, of course, because they have not had even the slightest hint of the outcome. The results were so closely guarded that my roommate did not even know the winners' names unless I talked in my sleep.

The elections held were for the most ideal boy and girl, the most popular boy and girl, the most athletic boy and girl, the most ideal couple, the most beautiful girl, and the most handsome boy.

The boy selected as most ideal is from the state of Alabama and the city of Athens. He was graduated from Athens Bible School in 1949 and enrolled in Freed-Hardeman the following September. To become a preacher of the gospel has always been his life's desire and that is exactly what he is doing. This ideal boy is vice-president of the Preachers Debate Club, a member of the Preachers Club, the chorus, and the Phi Kappa Alpha Society. In the realm of sports, he plays both basketball and football. One of his most outstanding accomplishments is his rendition of the "Saga of Wild Bill Hiccuph". Who else could he be but Tom Holland.

The most athletic girl is pursuing a secretarial career at Freed-Hardeman. On the side she is captain of the Alpha Tau girls' basketball team, a member of the Commercial Club and the Alpha Tau Lambda Society. A native Tennessean, Edna Sue Todd came to Freed-Hardeman from Yorkville, Tennessee. She has been participating in sports activities since she was in high school, where she took part in three of the major sports.

A laughing blonde miss with a desire to be a social worker was elected most popular girl. Alice Williams attended Spring Hill High School where she was active in scholastic affairs. This is her first year at F. H. C. and she has been elected secretary of the freshman class. Alice is also a member of the Alpha Tau Society, and the Alpha Tau Girls' basketball team.

Frances Hunter was elected most ideal girl. She graduated from Munford High School. She is a second-year student and is a member of the Alpha Tau Lambda Society, vice-president of the Commercial Club, assistant editor of the annual, and secretary of the senior class. Frances plans to work next year and then to finish college. After finishing college she plans to become a commercial teacher.

Norman Hogan and Jean Marilyn Green were elected most ideal couple. Norman better known as "Toby" is from West Memphis, Arkansas. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Society, and the Preachers Club. Toby is a third-year student. He supports the society of which he is a member in football, basketball and softball. Jean Marilyn is from Friendship, Tennessee. She

HOME MAKERS CLUB

On January 25, a special meeting was held in the club-room for the Freed-Hardeman Home Makers Club. The purpose of the meeting was to make further plans for their chapel program, to select a Miss Home Economics, and to make plans for the club's Valentine party.

Jean Wall was selected by the club as Miss Home Economics and she will be honor guest at the Valentine party.

Three new members, Bobby Murphy, Helen Hanna, and Wilma Wyatt, were recognized. The club is inviting other girls who are interested in the club to become members.

SIGMA RHO SOCIETY

The Sigma Rho Society met on January 15, in their respective meeting place with Mason Harris presiding. At this meeting, new officers to serve for the following six weeks, the cartoonist and debaters were chosen to represent the society.

The debaters who will compete with the other societies on a national issue are Hoy Ledbetter and Ivan Jameson, with Bob Taylor serving as substitute. Libby Gargis, Bud Hutton and Tommy Kendrick will represent the society in the cartoon contest.

Officers elected for the following six weeks were: president, Dorsey Traw; first vice-president, Oscar Cooper; second vice-president, Waylon Lawrence; secretary, Jean Wall; reporter, Kathleen Swift; sergeant-at-arms, Jimmy Thomas.

MARTIN WINS OVER

F. H. C. BY 59-55 SCORE

The Freed-Hardeman Lions trying for the fourth win of the season dropped a 59-55 heart-breaker to Martin College of Pultask, Tennessee.

With the score tied in the last period and only eight minutes to play Martin College gang caught fire and closed the gap by scoring seven quick points.

The late rally was sparked by the rebounding of Burks, and the shooting of Hendrix. James Daniels, FHC forward, scored twenty-six points to top high scoring honors for the night. Other Lions who figured in the scoring were Bones Montgomery and Frank Patterson.

Living Endowment Increases Support

On July 1, 1949, the Alumni Association launched a campaign called "The Living Endowment for Freed-Hardeman College." The plan called for contributions from $1 to $5 per month from alumni and friends. The "contributors" represent the principal and the contributions represent the interest. The purpose of the Living Endowment is to assist the college in becoming a member of the Southern Association of Colleges.

Next year the association is planning to give at least ten and one-half tuition scholarships. The Alumni Association needs the help of everyone in this undertaking. W. A. Bradfield, promotional director, advised that approximately $2,500 has been contributed since the campaign was launched.

So far, contributions to this campaign have come from twenty different states. Those making contributions from Henderson, Tennessee are the following: Pauline Anderson, Elvis Bozarth, W. A. Bradfield, Robert Darnall, H. A. Dixon, Kelly Doyle, Mrs. Nellie Johnson, Mary Glenn Mason, C. P. Roland, Betty White, John Bolen, Mrs. C. M. Foy, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Mitchell, M. K. Moody, Mrs. Ruby Morton, Mrs. Lottie Petty, Billy Tarpley and R. L. Witt.

Others from Tennessee who have given contributions are: Clapton Daniel, Humboldt; C. C. Doggett, Onedia; K. T. Edwards, Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Oury Harris, Jackson; Buford Kee, Greenfield; N. L. Lewis, Lexington; Hugh McArthur, Adamsville; Billy Nicks, Woodbury; T. A. Nicks, Nashville; Loyce L. Pearce of Jackson; Lanchester Tyler of Humboldt; Robert Wilson, Elizabethton; Blain Williams, Chattanooga; James L. Young, of Brownsville; Mrs. D. H. Allen of Kenton; and Miss Noia Allmond of Memphis.

The following representing eighteen other states, have made contributions: Hugo Allmond, of Detroit, Michigan; John Makin, Maldin, Missouri; Mrs. Laura A. Hodge, Corinth, Mississippi; L. Reese McDougald, Prescott, Arkansas; Mrs. Ethel Miller, Corinth, Mississippi; R. C. Oliver of Clawson, Michigan; Harold D. Trimble of Columbus, Mississippi; Dr. C. B. Billingsley, Ft.

CAPACITY CROWDS ATTEND LECTURES

By John Cathey

History has again been made at Freed-Hardeman College. The annual lectureship was held here January 8 through January 12, 1951. It is our sincere that the lectures were profitable and enjoyed by all who attended.

Our night speakers and their subjects were as follows: January 8, John B. Hardeman, "What Constitutes Christian Progress"; January 9, Granville Tyler, "Dwelling with the King"; January 10, G. A. Dunn, "According to the Pattern"; January 11, B. C. Goodpasture, "The Preaching That Saves"; and January 12, Otis Gatewood, "Germany for Christ." These night lectures were exceedingly well attended and filled the Henderson Church of Christ building to overflowing each night.

The day lectures began at 8:30 each morning and ended at 4:00 each afternoon Tuesday, January 9 through Friday, January 12. These lectures were also well attended.

The first period each morning was taken by Bro. G. K. Wallace speaking on, "Instrumental Music in Worship". Some of the high points of his lecture were Ephesians 5:19 "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." Translated from the original Greek, "making melody in your heart" the literal translation is "Psallantes en ta Kardia" which means "plucking with the fingers the strings of the heart". Of course figurative language is used as in "Circumcision of the heart." We are not to substitute our will for God's will by adding to his word. If we put in instrumental music, we are adding to the command to sing; for instance, instrumental music and singing are both co-ordinate. A co-ordinate cannot be an aid or a sub-ordinate which it must be to be an aid. When God told Noah to build the ark of gopher wood, he was excluding all other kinds of wood. He did not say, "You cannot use pine, oak or fir," because by saying only gopher wood, He excluded all other wood. Another argument of denominationalists is that of using the piano to get the pitch and sustain it. We know this does not make it right to us instrumental music because pitch is not music and a piano is def-

HISTORY OF F. H. C.

By Dale Buckley

We as students of F. H. C. are very proud of our college, but we can't fully appreciate it until we know a little of its history.

The school was originally two schools known as the Southern Normal College at Essary Springs, Tennessee, and the Henderson Masonic Institute at Henderson, Tennessee. These schools were established around 1885, but later some of the brethren became interested in combining the two schools; therefore, in 1895 the two schools were combined under the name of Geogie Robertson Christian College. The school was named after Brother Robertson's daughter, because he gave a donation of $5,000 to the school.

The college was originally in the building that the grammar school of Henderson is now in. The school was located there until 1905. In 1903 the music question came into the school, and as a result Bro. A. G. Freed and Bro. N. B. Hardeman left the school for two years. After this time Bro. Freed and Bro. Hardeman decided to build a new school. The Administration building that we now use was the first and only building for a long time. It was built in the year 1908. The school was grammar school and college at that time, and its first enrollment was between five and six hundred. This school was then named "National Teachers Normal and Business College" (NTN&B) and went by that name from 1908 to 1919. Most of us have seen these initials on the front walk of the Administration building but few of us know what they stand for.

As time went on the churches became interested in the school and wanted it to continue. Until 1919 the school was privately owned by Bro. Freed and Bro. Hardeman, and the brethren realized that Bro. Freed and Bro. Hardeman could sell the school or do anything with it that they wished; therefore, some of the churches bought the school in 1919 and put it under a board of directors. They named the school Freed-Hardeman College and appointed Bro. A. G. Freed president and Bro. N. B. Hardeman vice-president.

Bro. Freed and Bro. Hardeman were both disconnected from the school in 1923. Bro. C. P. Roland and Bro. Claude Hall became co-presidents at that time and remained co-presidents for two years. During these two years they got the school to be an accredited member of the Tennessee College Association. Bro. N. B. Hardeman returned to the college in 1925 as president and held that position until he resigned on June 1, 1950. After Bro. Hardeman's resignation Bro. H. A. Dixon of Florence, Alabama, was appointed president of the college and he holds that position at the present.

Examinations

By Beverly Butler

In the near future you will find yourself at the end of another quarter here at F.H.C., and of course, along with the quarter's end will come the dreaded exams. To some, exams will mean a week of sleepless nights with endless hours of cramming and "midnight oil". To others, they will be merely a week of review with special emphasis being placed on the proper amount of sleep and rest. In which group will you be found? It is hoped that you will be classed in the latter one because when one waits until the night before exams to attempt to learn what he should have learned all during the quarter, he goes into the test greatly weakened, both in body and mind. Why not take this into consideration and apply yourself and begin reviewing now?

Another aspect of the exam is the temptation to cheat. Cheating is neither right nor fair. When one takes an examination, he should accept it as a challenge to help him determine his present strong points and to strengthen his weak ones. Make it a practice to rely on yourself and put down your own knowledge—not that of your neighbor's. As exams approach, resolve to do your own work, for in so doing you are being fair to yourself, your fellow students, and your God.

Back Your Society

By Beverly Butler

In the next few weeks, all the societies will begin to compete for a trophy to be given away each quarter. If a society wins the trophy for three consecutive quarters, it may keep it permanently. The judging will be based on chapel programs, attendance, debate, sportsmanship, sports and art. The society placing first in any area will be given twenty points for that area; ten points will be given in second place, and five in third.

For many years the literary societies have been an important part of the campus life of F.H.C. It is up to you—the student body—to see that they remain so. Through your society you become better acquainted with your fellow students, and you grow to have a sense of participation and usefulness and belonging that is difficult to attain otherwise. If you have not become affiliated with one of the four societies on the campus—Alpha Taus, Phi Kappas, Philos, and Sigma Rho why not become a member of the one of your choice right away and give it your earnest support?

If you are already a society member, attend all meetings regularly. Participate in all its activities as much as possible. Be on hand at the gym to yell for your society team, and back chapel program participants and debaters. If you play on a team play hard and do your best, but see that your conduct is becoming a good sport.

In relation to sportsmanship, it might be well to remember that competition is good provided it is not carried too far. There has been some complaint about the idleness shown by other societies while another is performing, especially in joint society meetings. This should not exist.

Why not make this program of competition an overwhelming success by demonstrating good sportsmanship, by being present at all society meetings and programs, and by participating whenever called upon? Be on hand at all times and stand behind your society.

Let Us Have Faith

By Wanda Mills

In the mouth of every news commentator, and on the page of every newspaper and in every conversation we hear of the critical situation on which the world stands today. "What can be done in Korea?" "What will be the next move behind the Iron Curtain?" "Can the United Nations solve the pressing problems?" These seem to be in everyone's mind. Do we ever stop to think that we as individuals have much responsibility in brining about the desired peace for the world of tomorrow?

What can we do? One of the most important things is to try to have a more cheerful outlook on life and to place our faith and trust in God. If we do this, we will be a living example of the peaceful Christian who has learned to fear only those who can destroy the souls of man. If we as Christians cannot hope for a happy future, how can those who put no faith and trust in God plan for world peace?

All of us say we believe in prayer, but do we exercise this gracious privilege by asking God to guide the world authorities? Do we ask him to help us to be stronger and therefore a better influence for freedom of the world?

One factor that is destroying peace is disunity in what the nations want. Until those on the same side begin to strive for the same goal, how can world peace be obtained? So let us all, first, as citizens of the Kingdom of God, and secondly, as citizens of the United States, put our shoulders to the wheel and work to make the world a better place in which to live.

PREACHERS PARAGRAPHS

"Thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? Thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? Thou that abhorst idols, dost thou rob temples? Thou who gloriest in the law, through thy transgressions of the law dishonorest thou God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you." Rom. 2:21-24.

The Jews were wont to boast and brag about themselves. In the verses preceding the ones quoted, a number of the things that they boasted of are listed. Paul, after calling their attention to these boasts, begins in verse 21 to give them a rebuke by asking a series of questions. The Jews in answering these questions, could see the folly of their boastings and the evil of their way of living. In modern language they didn't practice what they preached.

This sin or weakness is not peculiar to the Jew only. People are afflicted in the same ways today. Let's examine our preaching and our lives to see if we are like they.

Often times we preach or at least agree with the preacher's sermons on stealing. God said to provide things honestly in the sight of all men. Yet we sometimes cheat in different ways. We copy someone else's school work; we take a handful of pop corn from a corn popper at some place of business; we pick up a gum drop from a showcase of candy; we borrow a book and forget to return it. These are just little things, but the principle is the same. "Thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?"

We speak of "Christian living" and of "falling from grace", and all the while we are living as if we didn't believe these things.

We do questionable things—things that cause others to lose respect for us. Not necessarily things that we might think are wrong, but that bring questions to our minds and to those of others. For instance—smoking, going to movies, playing cards, etc. (It is not my purpose here to condemn or to defend these but using them only to illustrate a point.) In doing so we often cause "the Gentiles" to wonder. We teach that we must "obey the powers that be," then turn around and break rules that we must have for mutual well-being in school.

We teach "Blessed is the poor in spirit" and imagine ourselves to be "big preachers" and let others know that we are—in other words we're not as humble as we ought to be many times. "Thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself?"

Many other things could be pointed out but we can apply the passage to our lives—let's think about it. It has been said, "He is a poor preacher that cannot preach better than he can practice, but he is a poorer preacher if he does not try hard to live up to his preaching." We must never blaspheme the name of God through our lives.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP WILL BE AWARDED

In addition to the preacher scholarships which Freed-Hardeman has been giving for many years, and the ten one-half tuition scholarships which the Alumni Association is offering to outstanding and worthy students for the 1951-52 session, there has been announced a plan to award one full tuition scholarship in each of the following states:

Arizona, Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, and to preacher students from foreign countries.

Anyone who is interested in obtaining such a scholarship, write to W. A. Bradfield, Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson.

Envy is the conclusive evidence of a little mind—and you can give yourself a mental test.

The man who can't make a mistake can't make anything.

When one of the students at F. H. C. was trying to describe just what he likes about Bro. Frank Van Dyke, he seemed to be at a loss for words. Finally he said, "Well, he is just plain nice." That seems to be the sentiment of all that have met or had classes with Bro. Van Dyke. Known by all the students for his fairness and sincerity, he is indeed a friend. His understanding smile has helped many students explain a difficult point in class.

A brilliant Bible scholar, he is known widely as a true preacher of the word. Bro. Van Dyke attended Freed-Hardeman College where he was interested in many activities. While at F. H. C. he was a member of the debating club and was respected as a worthy opponent. He received his Bachelor's degree from Wabash college in Crawfordsville, Indiana. Some time in the future he plans to work on his M. A.

Bro. Van Dyke came to Henderson this year from Albuquerque, New Mexico. While teaching at F. H. C. he is preaching for the Getwell Church in Memphis.

Bro. Van Dyke married Miss Juulia White of Humboldt, Tennessee, which is not far from his home, Alamo, Tennessee. They now have two small sons.

initely music.

The second period every morning was taken by Bro. Gus Nichols speaking on "Fundamental Fallacies of Holiness Cults". Some of the high points of his lessons follow. The signs of these cults are speaking in tongues, divine healing, etc; yet they, themselves, do not know what they are saying when they speak in tongues and will also take medicine when they are sick. Could it be that they do not believe what they teach? They believe that speaking in tongues is evidence of Holy Spirit baptism. Footwashing is a church ordinance; total depravity, dedication of infants are more of their beliefs.

There is also the Jesus Only division. We know this is wrong because God, Christ and the Holy Spirit are three distinct persons. God is diety, Christ is diety and the Holy Spirit is diety. The proof for this is found in Genesis 1:1-2 and again in John 1:1 and 14.

Bro. Frank Van Dyke spoke each morning from 11:00 until 11:50 on the subject, "God Is and God Hath Spoken". Some of the scriptures references he used were Gen. 1:1, Heb. 1:1 and Heb. 11:6. These passages show that God is and God hath spoken.

Even without using the Bible, we have arguments for there being a God. Cudworth's argument from philosophical necessity, "Something is; therefore, something eternally was." As the ancients taught, "From nothing, nothing comes." In the arrangement of the universe, it is too perfect to have not had an arranger. Such things do not just happen; the universe itself demands a creator.

"Modernism" was the topic selected by Bro. Frank Pack in his lecture from 1:00 until 2:00. The modernist says that we have a lot of religions such as Buddhism, Confucianism, and Judaism. They also contend that it is possible to take the lowest common denominator that leads Modernism to Humanism or each man to his own God. Even Liberalism will state that Christ was a good man and yet they refuse to worship Him.

"Literature of the Restoration Movement" was discussed by Bro. Earl West. He gave a detailed history of such papers as "Christian Baptist", "Millennial Harbinger", "Christian Messenger" and "Gospel Advocate". He called attention to the lives of such great leaders in the Restoration Movement as Alexander Campbell, Ben Franklin and Talbert Fanning.

During the last lecture period of the day, Bro. Kelley Doyle spoke to the audiences on "Congregational Singing". In his lectures, Bro. Doyle pointed out some errors in singing and leading hymns and methods of correcting such errors.

The 1951 lectures were ended Friday night, January 12, with Bro. Otis Gatewood, the closing speaker. Who will ever forget the stirring appeal he made, "the fields are white unto the harvest, but the workers are few".

ANNUAL STAFF GIVES RESULTS OF ELECTION

is a member of the Alpha Tau Society, the A. C. E., and the Home Makers Club. Jean Marilyn plans to teach school next year.

The title of most popular boy went to a lanky Californian with one of the most famous giggles in Freed-Hardeman. Jere Frost came to F.H.C. from Berkley, California. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Society, the Preachers Club and the chorus. Jere is also a member of the F.H.C. basketball squad.

James Daniels was elected the most athletic boy. James, who is a member of the Phi Kappa Society, came to Freed-Hardeman from the state of Georgia. During his first year, he has played regularly in the starting position of forward on the Lions squad.

The election for the top ten most beautiful girls and most handsome boys was held January 26. From these top ten three girls and three boys were selected by judges from Jackson, Tennessee on February 6. The top ten girls were Jean Wall, Frances Hunter, June Hardin, Katherine Watkins, Dean Rhodes, Jane White, Janie Dodds, Sue Traw, Louise Sims and Frances Allen. The top ten boys were Lewis Randolph, Richard Hollingsworth, Jerry Porter, John Cathey, Armando and Jose Garcia, Dale Buckley, Carroll Eads, Bill Threet, and Jere Frost.

Lewis Randolph was elected most handsome boy. He came to F.H.C. from Bandanna, Kentucky. Lewis is a member of the chorus and the Phi Kappa Society. He is preparing for the occupation of preaching. In second place was Armando Garcia. Armando is from Cuba. He graduated from De La Salle High School. Commercial business is the field which interests him. Armando is a member of the Sigma Rho Society. Dale Buckley was third place winner. New Albany, Mississippi is his home. Dale, a first-year student, is a member of the Skyrocket staff, the Commercial Club and the Phi Kappa Society.

Catherine Watkins was elected most beautiful girl. A member of the Philos, Catherine is from Henderson, Tennessee. Her dress was blue taffeta with a fitted bodice and a hoop skirt. June Hardin was the judges' selection for second place. A Missourigal, June is a member of the Alpha Tau Society, chorus, Skyrocket staff, and Historian of the Home Makers Club. The dress she wore in the competition was frothy pink net made with a fitted bodice. Jean Wall, senior, was the judges' other selection. Jean is from Martin, Tennessee. She is a member of the A. C. E., the Home Economics Club, chosen "Miss Home Economics", Sigma Rho Society, Library Club and Skyrocket staff. Jean's dress was a creation of blue-green net over green taffeta.

The pictures of the winners will appear in the feature pages of the 1951 Treasure Chest. Have you bought your annual yet.

Quite a few things have happened around here since our last issue of the Sky Rocket. Among them are the three couples who have started dating steady, Juanita Edwards and Charles Anderson, Janie Dodds and Bob Taylor, and Roberta Saunders and Marvin Nobles. We wish you kids the best of luck.

It seems Joe Corley was very anxious for Alice Williams' return last week-end. Could it be that you missed her, Joe?

Allen Barber has found a new flame in the form of Francis Hunter. You'd better hang on to her Allen, because she's a wonderful girl.

Who's lonesome now? Eunice Mal Warren has been; we don't know about now. She's been seen with Whiz several times.

We hear Sammy Hartline had a grand time during the week-end that Romie Farris visited with Libby. That's an honor, Sammy, because if you remember she was chosen the most beautiful girl here last year.

It has been rumored that Pam Burke and Homer Pack are going steady, but we don't know. From the way it looks we could answer "yes", but as for officially "no".

Mamie Cook and Carroll Sutton are still getting along fine. This must be the real thing because it's been going on for a long time.

Wonder why Ross Saunders has started going to Alabama so much? Could it be there are more Pigs there?

Jerry Smith has been given quite a rush by Emer Braham. They certainly do make a cute couple.

Charles Fuller and Wanda Mills seem to be getting along well.

Who's the lucky girl who's making quite a head-way with Richard Hollingsworth?

Freddie Graham and Jimmy Thomas are seen together quite frequently lately and always seem to be having a swell time. Good luck, kids.

Did you notice that Jere Frost had a date Wednesday night? And the lucky girl was Helen Hanna! Congratulations, Helen, I know plenty of girls who would love to have been in your shoes. The same to Jere, too, 'cause Helen is a wonderful girl.

Dean Rhodes is still visited regularly by Jimmy Yearwood. Too bad Jimmy didn't stay here, isn't it Dean?

Could it have been Earlene Tucker and Bob Barker that Brother Gardner was referring to in his statement made in chapel about couples talking in the west hall?

What's this we hear about Jane White and Leonard Brown? All I know is that someone suggested that something about them be put in the paper, so here it is.

It looks like June Southern and Jose Garcia have started dating again. Maybe this time something will come of it. Armando has been with Betty Jean Skelton quite frequently, too.

Who were the girls that had a snowball fight with Bro. Darnall? Careful girls! don't you want to pass history this quarter?

See you this time next month, when The Vacuum Cleaner will again empty its bag to bring you all the trash that has been collected.

It is very difficult to operate a church on the basis of absentee membership.

The three hours of darkness of Calvary brightened the world for all time to come.

FREED-HARDEMAN 5 BOWS TO LAMBUTH

Lambuth College of Jackson, Tennessee, overpowered and defeated F. H. C. to the tune of 103-65, at the high school gym for the Jackson gang's ninth straight win.

The contest saw 42 fouls called, 18 charged against the Lions and 24 against Lambuth.

After the score had changed hands four times in the first quarter, Lambuth found the range of the basket and pulled away, never to be headed. The visiting team began to sparkle after the intermission as they increased the margin to a commanding 23 point lead in 11 minutes.

B. Burnette, who fouled out with six minutes remaining in the game, and his brother K. Burnette, the play maker and spark plug of the game tied for scoring honors for Lambuth. James Daniels led the scoring parade with 27 points, followed by Jerry Frost and Bill Montgomery with 15 and 11 points respectively for the Lions.

CLUB ROOM CAPERS

Good evening everyone. This is your old friend Dralliw Savid bringing you the one and only Club Room Capers. Tonight we have a treat instead of a treatment: The Club Room Talent Show.

Tonight we have a host of guests from all over. The prizes for this evening are very tempting for our contestants. First prize is a dozen pickled donut holes; sounds delicious doesn't it? For the second place winner we have a year's supply of What-knots.

First on the agenda will be a song by Junior Day, the man with the sandpaper tonsils. He will sing "Send Me a Blond, I'm tired of Squeezing Blackheads". After this, our next contestant, "Blackie" Darnell, will play the Philco.

Boyd, the Lemon, will now do some impersonations. His first one will reveal how he sees "Coke" Hall conduct one of his typical classes. After this Boyd will do a fake operation as he thinks "Bugs" Dunnivant would do it. And lastly, we hear an excellent imitation of Bing "the voice" Doyle as he might conduct one of his voice lessons.

Next we hear from the Classy Cuban Couple, Jose and Armando. They will sing "If You Got The Money, I've Got The Time." They will also sing "Parrandero" See me later for the words and their meaning.

For the concluding number tonight, we have a trio to sing for us. It consists of Zelda, Ruby and Logan. They are sometimes referred to as "The Memphis Trio". They will sing "We're The Gopher Girls". "Slim" Garrison will accompany the trio with her famed guitar.

Do the judges have their decision as to the best contestant on the show? I am pleased to announce that none of the contestants won. In this case all the prizes go to the Master of Ceremonies and that is me. You know the general rule regarding the winner being with us on the program next week; well, we don't have anyone. Isn't that nice?

Come again. The Club Room is yours; use it.

Troutt-Chenault

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Troutt, Route 1, Hickory, was the scene Sunday morning, December 24, at 8 o'clock of the wedding of their daughter, Norma, and Curtis Jewell Chenault of Bardwell, Kentucky.

Bro. Will Ed Warren officiated at the ceremony, which was performed before a background of Christmas greenery, in the presence of the families and immediate friends.

The bride, an attractive blonde, wore for her wedding a suit of cinnamon wool, designed with a hip-length coat, which flared softly in back, and a slim dark skirt. Her accessories were dark brown, and she wore an orchid corsage.

Her only attendant was Miss Janice Shelton, who wore a two-piece knit dress of wine with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

John Coil, Jr., of Bardwell, served Mr. Chenault as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Troutt wore a dress of beige crepe, with which she used brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother was attired in black crepe, and she also wore white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served for the wedding party and guests following the ceremony. The table was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif.

Mrs. Chenault, a graduate of Lowes High School was graduated from Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn., and attended Florida Christian College in Tampa. At the time of her marriage she was a member of the Lowes High School faculty.

The groom, a graduate of Bardwell High School attended Freed-Hardeman College, and is now serving with the U. S. Army at Camp Stewart, Savannah, Ga. where he and his bride will reside for the present.

Guests at the wedding and the breakfast included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chenault of Bardwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chenault, Jim Chenault and Miss Gloria Myers of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Wiltz Knight, Mrs. Will Ed Warren and T. T. Troutt.

INTRAMURALS

PHILOS NIP SIGMA RHOS 21-20

The Philos finally cashed in on the win column by taking the scalp of the Sigma Rhos by one point.

The game was close during the playing time. Barker and Dixon led their team with 11 and 6 points respectively, while Whiz-hunt carried the load for the Sigma Rhos.

PHI KAPPA ROMPS OVER ALPHA TAUS

Phi Kappa won the fourth straight game 37-24 by defeating the Alpha Taus. The Alpha Taus started like a house on fire, but their blaze soon died. Charles Brown was a thorn in Alpha Tau's side during the last half as he hit for 10 points. George Herring led the attack for the Phi Kappas with a total of 12 points for the game. Dale Carver and Jimmy French were leading point makers for the Alpha Taus with 9 and 7 respectively.

ALPHA TAUS TRIUMPH OVER PHILOS

The Alpha Taus found the Philos easy picking as they won the third game by the score of 37 to 23. Jerry Porter paced the Alpha Taus with 10 points, and Bob Barker had 10 for the Philos. High scoring honors for the game, however, went to Toby Hogan who collected 14 points for the Alpha Taus.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What do you think of the Off-Brothers?

Frances Allen—Just fine. (I do not want to hurt anyone's feelings)

Louise Sims—Where do they get those colossal ideas?

Dale Carver—A very fine and outstanding organization. This club should go places—especially to Bolivar.

Robert Taylor—Be ye separate—come out from them.

Jo Ann Nicks—The boys are swell but I sure am glad you decided to shave again. After all laziness can go too far.

Jean Wall—Although the "Off-Brothers" club is a new one, it has proved to be an outstanding society—just look at its members.
