

DR. HARRY C. CLARK DIS- CUSSES "THE GREATEST GAME IN THE WORLD"

Dr. Clark is one of the foremost educators of Tennessee. For many years he was identified with the University of Tennessee. He is very much in demand as a lecturer by high schools and colleges and the students of F. H. C. considered themselves indeed fortunate to hear this noted man speak at chapel exercise on March 13th. He launched immediately into his subject by suggesting, "The greatest game in the world is not basket ball, foot ball, marbles nor throwing tops; it is growing into manhood." This thought was based upon Heb. 12:1, as was the remainder of his talk which was divided into three main topics.

The first point emphasized was that boys and girls are surrounded by cheering spectators. No contestant ever won a race without the aid of some one to cheer him.

The school boy has enough good spectators interested in him to cause him to succeed, chief among whom are his father, his teachers and his fellow-students.

The second topic was the fact that in a race certain weights must be laid aside. The weights affecting the race run in school and the ones most troublesome now are carelessness, indolence, discouragement and selfishness. It is impossible for one to run a good race with such hindrances. The school boy should ever keep in mind this prayer if he wants to win.

"Now I get me up to work

I pray the Lord I may not shirk.

If I should die before the night,
I pray the Lord my work is right."

The third thought was that some running and some sacrificing must be done. Dr. Clark made this statement more forcible by giving a striking illustration from a baseball game. The boy student is on third base in the ninth inning, the good father on the home plate making a sacrifice hit in order that his son may make the run and win the game.

Dr. Clark's excellent speech left all our students more fully determined to play well "The Greatest Game in the World."

A hen is not supposed to have
Much common sense or tact,
Yet every time she lays an egg
She cackles forth the fact.

A rooster hasn't got a lot
Of intellect to show,
But none the less most roosters

Enough good sense to crow.

The mule, the most despised of

Has a persistent way
Of letting folks know he's around
By his insistent bray.

The busy little bees they buzz,

And doves and pigeons coo.

Two Preachers, Junior

Cards have recently been received here announcing the birth of Ira A. Douthitt, Jr., of Sedalia, Kentucky, and of John C. Taylor, Jr., of Obion, Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. Douthitt and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have all been pupils and friends of F. H. C. for a number of years. We offer them our heartiest congratulations and hope that these two young gentlemen will follow the worthy example of their parents and in the future become Freed-Hardeman students and boosters.

All Tune In On WMC Evening Of April 5th

Get your receiving set in order, everybody, and thus assure yourselves of a treat on Saturday night, April 5th, when F. H. C. representatives will broadcast from station WMC, Memphis. Natural ability and thorough practice on the part of our quartet, composed of Mrs. Bell, Mr. Holland, Dorsey and Carrie Neal Hardeman, are combining to make up an enjoyable program. Our students will be given an opportunity to "listen in" and so should you.

Olan Shelly had the misfortune to break his left leg last Friday while skating. We hope he may soon be able to resume his work. At the last report, Olan was improving as well as could be expected.

JUNIORS

Among the many students of this institution, those of the Junior class stand in front row and will continue to do so throughout the entire year. This class is well organized and holds regular meetings every Thursday.

The officers of this class are:

D. B. Hardeman, President;
B. J. McCann, vice-president;
Gwendolyn Humphreys, Secretary; Brooksie Atkison, Treasurer; Tolbert Kennedy, Reporter; Prof. C. P. Roland, Sponsor.

The class flower is sweet pea, the colors are old rose and silver, and the motto, "No igualar, sino vencer" was chosen.

At one of the recent meetings a decision was made to give the Seniors a party. After due consideration, the class decided to entertain at a dinner at the Hotel on Tuesday evening, March 19th, at 7:00 o'clock, and then proceed to the home of Ben McCann, where the remainder of the evening will be spent.

Both Juniors and Seniors are eagerly looking forward to the occasion.

Evangelist Again In Tennessee

Bro. N. B. Hardeman returned on the fourth of March from an extended western trip, occupying eight weeks. Most of this time was spent in conducting two successful meetings in the city of Los Angeles, California. On his way home, he stopped at Abilene, Texas, where he spent five days preaching and lecturing on his recent trip to Europe and the Holy Land. He also stopped off one night in Oklahoma City, and preached there. On the ninth he began a revival in Jackson, Tenn., after which he will spend a month in Detroit, Michigan.

Cupid Is Still Active

Hymen recently claimed two F. H. C. Girls when Miss Mary Watson, of Friendship, Tenn., became Mrs. Alton Wainwright, of Alamo, and Miss Lorene Bolen, of Wildersville, married Mr. Joe Boswell, of Lexington. Both young ladies have been Freed-Hardeman students for the past several years, and although we dislike to give them up, we wish for them all happiness and success.

"SIGMA RHO"

By Eural Williams.

Here's to the name of Sigma Rho
A name we hold most dear,
Though it matters not if others
decay,

It's the same through the changing
years,
Its place is first; its rank at
the top,

And 'twill ever remain that way,
It has shone from the first, it's shining now,

And will shine on Commencement
Day,

For it's made of a band of girls
and boys,

The best to be found in the land
Who are neither contented to stand idly by

Nor to build on the shifting sand,
But with patience and courage,
and a mind to work

They are striving to do their part,
By loyalty's test, they are doing their best,

And that with a willing heart,
And though years may elapse,
and seasons may roll

And distance may hold us apart,
Yet a friendship within, that makes us akin,

Binds all in one common heart.

So continue, my friends, to be faithful and true,

Let kindness her blessings bestow,
It's the love that I have for the things we have done,

That's why I'm a SIGMA RHO.

On the 26th of February the Freed-Hardeman students went to a play given at the County High School, "The Microbe of Love", and greatly enjoyed it.

On the evening of March 6th, in F. H. C. auditorium, Miss Elizabeth Shaney, vice-president of the W. C. T. U. of Missouri, delivered an excellent lecture to a large audience. Preceding the lecture an interesting playlet, "The Eighteenth Amendment", was presented by local children. Another good thing which is in store for us and will be given on the night of April 7th, is a recital by Miss Mary Sharpe, Soloist, Mrs. Jones, Reader, and Mrs. Motly, Pianist, of Florence, Alabama.

Members of English Classes
To Appear in Play

Back in the fall term of school the Senior English class studied a play by Oscar Wilde, "The Importance of Being Earnest." It proved so interesting that it has recently been decided to give it publicly.

Nine boys and girls from the Junior and Senior College English classes have been assigned parts, and, under the direction of the instructor, Mr. Cuff, the play will soon be ready for presentation. The entertaining story of two boys, both of whom assume the name "Ernest" to satisfy the whims of their lady-loves, is the central theme of this humorous offering, which is sure to draw an interested audience.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" will be given next Thursday, March 20th. Don't fail to see it.

A new drinking fountain was installed in the administration building a short time ago.

Albert Holland and Sidney Campbell were dinner guests at Oakland Home on Sunday, March 2nd.

Misses Edna Long and Alvis Shotts visited Miss Long's parents in Tupelo, Miss., recently.

Another Milepost

This last week has been a full one. This was the week of wonder and worry, of stuffing and cramming, of questioning and grading, of many C's and few A's, of frantic reading and outlining of books assigned weeks ago, in short, it was examination week and end of the second quarter. It is hardly believable that we have passed over more than two thirds of the year. We are being impressed more all the time with the thought that "Days are fleeting."

At The Church Of Christ

Interest in the Bible work and Church service among the students increases all the time. Recent leaders of the Wednesday night prayer meetings are Neal Ratliffe, Gerald Montgomery, and Nathan Thompson.

On February 17th, Bro. Hall preached for us both morning and night. On the 24th of last

Eva Peddy: "At least no one can say I'm two-faced."

Irene: "Goodness no! If you were you'd surely leave that one at home."

Campbell and Goodgion yawned and stretched. "What shall we do to-night?" said Goodgion. "I'll toss up a quarter for it", replied Campbell. "If it's heads, we'll go to the show; if it's tails we'll go to bed right after supper; if it stands on edge we'll study."

Clyde Redwine: "When's your birthday, Stennett?"

Charlie Stennett: "I don't have any. I was born in the night-time."

Murray Anderson: "How long before Eva will make her appearance?"

Katherine Humphreys: "She's upstairs making it now."

Mr. Cuff: "I thought Mr. Holland was keen on classical music. That's a popular song he's singing, isn't it?"

Ruby Crump: "Not in the dormitory."

Flossie McClure: "He said he'd drown himself if I refused to marry him."

Gay Futrell: "Poor man! He's between the devil and the deep sea, sure 'nough."

Dorsey: "Mr. Holland, what is an echo?"

Mr. Holland (casting a side glance at his wife): "My son, an echo is the only thing on earth that can cheat a woman out of the last word."

"Tolbert doesn't call on Jewel any more."

"Why?"

"She's got a parrot."

"What of that?"

"It keeps saying, 'now Tolbert stop.'"

Lois Sanders: "When I sing, tears come in my eyes. What can I do for that?"

Eva Jones: "Stuff cotton in your ears."
