He came to Henderson to visit his brother and family before he and his family returned to their homeland of South Africa where he will preach the gospel.

Cox spoke to the group concerning landmarks in education, government and religion. He was introduced by Willard Smith.

Mitchell Sewell Greer was guest speaker at the Freed-Hardeman chapel exercise Friday, March 1. Greer and his family along with two other families plan to enter the Scandinavian countries in the spring to establish the Church of Christ there.

Greer spoke concerning the opportunities for mission work there and some of the plans being made for the work which is to be done there.

Following the chapel assembly he showed slides of the countries and their conditions. Greer attended school at Abilene Christian College in Abilene, Texas and just returned from the annual lectureship held there.

PRESIDENT DIXON ANNOUNCES ADDITION OF GEORGE GURGANUS

George Gurganus

President H. A. Dixon recently announced that George Gurganus of Tokyo, Japan, will be added to the Freed-Hardeman College faculty for the 1957-58 session opening in September. He will serve as Chairman of the English department and will also teach a course in world evangelism.

Gurganus, originally from Alabama, received his B. A. degree from Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas in 1939. After graduating from Harding he worked in aircraft maintenance for American Air Lines Inc. in Chicago for nine months. Upon receiving a promotion he was sent to Syracuse, New York where he served as an agent for the Airlines for three years. After three years as an agent, Gurganus resigned and began preaching full time in 1943.

Very active in preaching the gospel, Gurganus established a Church of Christ in Syracuse and assisted in the establishment of churches in Erie, Pennsylvania and Schenectady, New York. He founded Camp Hunt, Hubbardsville, New York in 1947 and operated it for three years. During 1948-49 he taught at Colgate University.

Since Thanksgiving Day of 1949 Gurganus has been in Japan. His enthusiasm and zeal are evident in the work that he has done there. He established the Yoyogi-Hachiman Church of Christ in Tokyo, and in 1954 the church became self-supporting. His work also includes the establishment of the Motosu Christian Camp on Lake Motosu at the foot of Mt. Fuji in 1951 which he directed for five years.

In 1954 Gurganus secured employment as Education Advisor for the United States Air Force at the Tokyo International Airport. In July of 1956 he was promoted to Education Director. Later he was appointed to the staff of the University of Maryland and taught an English Composition course, a job held concurrently with the Air Force job from January 28, 1957.

Gurganus received an M.A. degree from Syracuse University in 1947 and an M. A. degree from Harding College in 1954.

The Freed-Hardeman College Chorus, under the direction of Kelly Doyle, head of the music department, appeared over the Jackson station, WDXI, Thursday night, February 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Following the TV performance the chorus sang in a program at the Allen Street congregation at 7:30 p.m.

On February 20-22, the chorus filled a three-day engagement. The tour included appearances in Columbus, Mississippi, Jasper, Northport, Birmingham and Tusculumbia, Alabama.

Thirty-seven members of the chorus participated in the appearances of the tour.

The 1957 annual Negro Minstrel was presented Tuesday, February 26 in the FHC auditorium. The cast included Interlocuter, Landon Saunders; Endmen, Albert Hill, Ed Blackwell, Hugh Fulford, and Alan Highers. Several specialty numbers were presented. Editorials

Recently when she was absent because of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Campbell conducted her classes in a rather unique way. For all three sections of her English Literature classes she put on tape all that she would have discussed with the classes if she had been there. When these recordings were played in the classrooms, the effect on the students was amazing. Everyone listened intently to every comment and followed with particular interest the poems that were read. Perhaps this should serve as a pattern to other teachers. Instead of having a substitute when they are absent, who knows very little about the class work, why not use this method which is more beneficial to teacher and student. By this means there is no loss of valuable class time and the teacher does not have to delay his schedule in order to catch up for the days filled by a substitute.

DEBATES (II)

By Alan Highers

The RELIGIOUS DEBATE CLUB is in the finest tradition of Freed-Hardeman College. For several years such discussions constituted a regular part of the Lectureship program. Noted evangelists such as Gus Nichols, G. K. Wallace and others conducted debates on much the same order as students do now in this gathering. One disputant would take the error and would defend it as though he believed it; the other would respond with the truth. This prepared them and their listeners to understand the error better and to know how to refute it most effectively.

Those who attend the RELIGIOUS DEBATE CLUB should do so with several good purposes in mind. Here is the place to learn WHAT various groups teach, WHY they do, and HOW to disprove their teachings by the Bible. The debaters themselves gain valuable experience in quick thinking and clear speaking. This organization obviously has something worthwhile to offer every interested student. People are continually asked questions about their religious convictions. The Bible itself instructs us to be prepared to give the correct replies (1 Pet. 3:15; 1 Jn. 4:1). Therefore, an effort should be made to investigate the Bible teaching in every possible way. And, if Christians were better acquainted with the false doctrines circulated in the religious world, they would know how to talk with those who believe them. The RELIGIOUS DEBATE CLUB fills this need by demonstrating the reasons people believe as they do—and showing how to invalidate these reasons.

As some people already know by experience, false doctrines can sometimes be presented by good people in a very clever manner. "And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into an angel of light." (II Cor. 11:14.) It takes preparation to answer such things convincingly. Anyone who has been embarrassed by allowing the truth to suffer in a discussion should not need a second admonition to attend such functions as the RELIGIOUS DEBATE CLUB.

H. C. ROLAND SPEAKS TO SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club held its first meeting of the winter quarter on Thursday, February 21 at 7:15.

Guest speaker was H. C. Roland who spoke concerning photography. Using cameras from his shop he explained the differences in price, size, and work produced.

A 1-minute picture of the group was made and the developing procedure explained.

After the lecture and demonstration questions were asked by the members and guests.

Dixon Announces Educational Fund

H. A. Dixon, president of Freed-Hardeman College announces that plans have been developed whereby the College will co-operate with those who wish to accumulate a fund for the purpose of educating their children.

This newly-organized educational fund provides two types of accounts. One type is the savings fund. This fund is designed for those who prefer to have the semi-annual interest automatically added to the balance.

The second type in the fund is the investment account. This account is designed for the person who desires to make a lump sum investment and offers a semi-annual income. The amount of investment can be redeemed in services only in the form of room, board, tuition, fees, and textbooks at Freed-Hardeman College at the rates specified in the catalog.

All investment and savings funds received by Freed-Hardeman College are under the direct supervision of its Board of Trustees.

For further information write G. K. Wallace, Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tennessee for a bulletin concerning the educational fund.

DEBATE POSTPONED BY WALLACE, BROWN

The debate scheduled between G. K. Wallace and L. H. Brown of Bemis, Tennessee, has been indefinitely postponed. Mr. Brown recently underwent surgery and had to put off the debate for several months. Brother Wallace has his time all so arranged that he cannot set a date for this year.

The elders of the church in Henderson are unwilling to hold the debate at Henderson until the debate is first held in Bemis. Consequently, there will be no debates with Mr. Brown this year. Any arrangements further about this will have to be decided by the elders of the church of Christ in Henderson.

Always be good to your neighbor, he may live next door.

CAMPUS SEARCHLIGHT

Well, spring is just around the corner and young men's fancies turn to, now what is it they turn to? Oh, yes! What the girls have been thinking about all winter.

Spring is the time for tennis and some folks have already chosen their partners for doubles. When GAYLE WILLIAMS knocks the ball over the net, you can be sure that DON RICHARDSON will be there to retrieve it. KATY NEEDHAM can't seem to keep her mind on the game because her eyes are wandering toward the baseball diamond where Josh Lewis is practicing ball.

Speaking of diamonds, SUE FRITZ received a beautiful one from HAROLD HUMPHRIES. MARTHA EDMOND'S eyes are all aglitter from the reflection of the ring on her finger that WAYNE EMONS gave her on the chorus trip. Congratulations!

The new fad around the campus is red jackets. Several of the students have been sporting them. Some prefer to be different and wear black ones. I won't mention any names, But . . .

MARK HICKS is seen in the vicinity of the girl's dormitory and it isn't to see his parents in the bookstore, is it, BARBARA TURNER?

BETTY LANCASTER has taken up a rod and reel while at home on the weekends. Her interest seems to be primarily in the company she keeps instead of how many fish she catches.

Spring fever is catching and so is going steady. Congratulations to the new steadies: JUNE HOWELL and GERALD LUSK, PEGGY HENSLEY and KERRY McCLAIN, REBA ROGERS and DAN FUTRELL, SARA COLLUM and DARREL HUPP.

Some girls can't resist those midnight snacks and who needs late lights with such big closets? Some people have closets in their kitchens, others have kitchens in their closets, don't they AMANDA and KATHY?

SONJA GREENFIELD and BETTY BAILEY are keeping the roads well worn to home. Is mother's home cooking that good or is it something else?

BERNEY WAITE spends quite a bit of his time at the local drugstore. The milkshakes are so good and large that it takes him all afternoon to drink one, but the company is even better.

Hey, BRYCE ROBERSON. Just between you and me, I got a scratch on your blue Cadillac the other night when I drove too close to the fire escape to let you out.

With term papers due, outside reading to be handed in, and final exams to study, I mean cram, for everyone has been kept pretty busy. Midnight oil has been burning in more than one room this past week, but what do you do when the batteries in your flashlight burn out, ANNIE THORPE?

Wedding bells will be ringing during the holidays for EVA LANSDELL and EULICE CURRINGTON, CAROLYN BRIDGES and LYNN ANDERSON. The best of happiness to you all.

Did you know it is abnormal to be normal?

Have a wonderful time over the holidays and get rested for registration day.

See you next quarter!

FTA MEMBERS ATTEND TEA IN JACKSON

The Future Teachers of America Club at FHC received an invitation from the Phi Kappa Alpha, a teachers club from Jackson and surrounding areas, to a tea held Sunday afternoon, February 10 between the hours of 3 and 5:30 p.m. at Lambuth College in Jackson.

Those from FHC attending were Clara Simpson, Ann Cox, June Rogers and Joanne Lemmons.

Many of the girls on the campus were eager to express their opinions when asked if they had any "gripes" about the conduct of the boys on the campus. (Don't worry boys, you will have your chance later on.) Here are the answers verbatim:

Sandra Bruce, "I wish they would be on time."

Diane Bruce, "Pink hair and red shirts don't go together."

Sylvia Johnson, "No comment."

Dixie Akins, "I guess with a few exceptions they are pretty good I wouldn't call any names."

Doris Brooks, "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me."

Quida Lawrence, "They are all nice, but I think they should ask for more dates."

Reba Rogers, "They are pretty sweet, one in particular."

Glenda Haynie, "I have got a lot of griping to do, but I could not put it down."

Linda Forrester, "I don't want to say anything about them."

Ruth Lansdell, "I think they are all nice—most of them, that is."

Betty Walker, "Too many are self-righteous and awfully possessive."

Nancy Price, "I think they are the nicest boys I have met anywhere especially the way they treat the girls."

Peggy Eubank, "Their list of gripes are probably longer than mine."

BAR ASSOCIATION OFFERS AUTO HINTS

In a recent issue of the Jackson Sun, Jackson, Tennessee, appeared an article outlined by the Jackson-Madison County Bar Association dealing with the procedure to be taken after an automobile accident.

In this article was stated that more Americans have been killed in automobile accidents since Pearl Harbor than were killed in World War II.

Since most people will be involved in or witness an accident at some time the association recommended certain steps to be taken by passengers or witnesses. These include: stop, assist injured, place signals, identify other driver, contact witnesses, take notes, don't comment, assist police, see a doctor, make reports, inform insurance companies, sign no statements and avoid ambulance chasers.

It is better to be little and shine than to be big and cast a shadow.

Student's prayer: Come, sleep! O! Sleep. The certain knot of peace. Sir Phillip Sidney.

THE REWARDS OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION

(Ed. note — The following article was written by Samantha Hall of Sharon, Tennessee. Samantha who plans to attend F-HC next year edits the "Eagle Talk", in which this article appeared. It is published here to encourage other prospective students and perhaps influence others.)

Are you going to college? Some will answer yes, while others will declare a definite — no! Why do you say no, and on what grounds do you base that answer; except that you don't intend to waste your time in college when you could be "getting rich quick". Oh I grant you, these aren't your words, but could you tell me a better phrase?

To those of you who say "yes" may I be among the others to bless and congratulate you. I, myself, intend to go to college and I believe I have some good reasons for my choice.

A college education will lay the foundation for the next forty or fifty years—your future—that time that you have often thought about, wondered, and made plans for. If you have not already done so, you choose your career and build your foundation around that career. Fortunately indeed is the person who knows by the time he is a Junior or Senior in High School just what he intends to make of his future.

Not everyone should go to college. Perhaps you are one of the lucky few who was born with a natural gift. Take art work as an example, if you are good with an easel and colors, instead of a college education, you would profit just as much by going to an art school. Then there are those who just couldn't make a college grade; by this, I mean two things: either they don't have the mental ability or else they don't care so they just don't try.

Students, class-mates, and upper-classmen, let me urge you to take some kind of higher training and make something of yourself that you will be proud of, as will your family and your friends. Don't be in that crowd on the other side of the picture—the blank side.

Wouldn't it be nice for someone to say of you, "He was a credit to science," or perhaps, "There never lived a better family and community person?"

As our motto for our 1957 class says:

"Be Thrilled When The Job Is Hard—Not Everyone Can Do It."

MILLER BABY BORN

A daughter, Beverly Diane, weighing 6 pounds and 10 ounces, was born to Orlan and Marjorie Miller on February 18 at the Madison County General Hospital in Jackson.

Bro. Miller is head of the Speech Department at Freed-Hardeman.

MEN ARE A MESS

If you smile at him, he thinks you're flirting;

If you don't smile he thinks you're an iceberg.

If you let him kiss you, he wishes you were more reserved.

If you don't he'll seek consolation elsewhere.

If you flatter him, he thinks you are simple;

If you don't, he thinks you don't understand him.

If you let him make love to you, he thinks you're cheap;

If you don't he'll go out with a girl who will.

If you go out with other fellows, he thinks you're fickle;

If you don't, he thinks no one

Lions End Season With 17-11 Record; Climax Comes With Defeat Of Bisons

By Jack Esslinger

Well, it's all over but the shouting! The last Saturday in February brought to a close one of the most successful seasons F.H.C. has had on the hardwood in years. The Lions ended the season on the intelligent end of a 17-11 record, after facing such mighty foes as the freshmen teams of Memphis State, Ole Miss, Murray State, and Miss. State. These were not all the tough ones, but one can get a pretty good idea from this cross-section as to the type teams the big cats faced this year. Even then the record does not show the true strength of the team, for the strength not only lies in the number of games a team wins, but in the spirit it shows when faced with defeat. Quite a few times the chips seemed to be down, the coals were growing cold, but for some reason the team never called it quits. Because of this spirit, the team pulled a number of games out of the fire and finished with a fine record.

There were disappointments of course. After getting off to a fine start of 2-0, the team lost a little of its pep and lost four straight before tasting victory again. These losses were: Bethel (2), Northeast (1) and D.L.C. (1). Sweet victory was gained once again on the night of Nov. 29 when the Lions defeated Lambuth Junior Varsity and then on Dec. 3 by beating Martin College.

The record see-sawed like this until the Christmas vacation was over. In the second half of the season the Lions faced 13 teams and were defeated only three times: once by Itawamba, and twice by Ole Miss Freshmen.

While the rest of the school was enjoying its vacation of three weeks, the team was busy playing in a tournament in Mississippi. The boys lost only once, to Northeast, and finished in a first place tie with the N. E. team. This is unusual, but that is the way it ended up.

D.L.C. spoiled part of the homecoming celebration by defeating the Lions in the last forty-five seconds, by the narrow margin of two points.

The attitude of the fans and the team called to memory an article written by one of Lipscomb's sports writers about four years ago. The article was announcing the year's basketball schedule and the author stated, "And then there is poor, little Freed-Hardeman!"

What happened the next time the mighty Lipscomb team encountered the Lions? When the final buzzer sounded the Lipscomb Bisons hung their heads in shame as they wound up on the "minus end" of the score which totaled 85-61. Boys, the honeymoon is over. Just two questions for said team and sports writer—have you ever read, "Casey At The Bat" and "How about next year, and 'poor little F.H.C.'?" We enjoyed this year! Didn't we F.H.C.?

Team spirit has characterized every F.H.C. team this writer has had the pleasure of watching. This was especially true in 1957. The boys worked as a unit, and not once did anyone make a grandstand play. This does not mean that one boy did not have more ability than another, but the whole team was "The Star" and not one individual. Kerry McClain was the "hot" one this year. In a few games he hit in the forties, one time scoring 45 against Memphis State. He finished the year with an average of 22.9. Moore, always dependable, had an average of 21.6. Lusk, Bowen, Creasey and Harris (seniors) followed in that order. The Freshmen did not see much action, but they are all good ball players and we are expecting a lot from them next year. The Freshmen who made the team were: Smith (F), Martin (C), Adkins (F), Clary (G), and Flack (G).

That is enough for the team. We are all proud of you, not only for the fine record of victories, but for the wonderful way in which you represented the school. You are to be congratulated.

A team is nothing without a good leader. Leaders in any sport are needed both on and off the court. It has been the privilege of F.H.C. for a number of years to have as its basketball coach, Mr. Dick Stewart.

Mr. Stewart is a brilliant coach and has directed teams to many great victories. (Take a look through the old annuals in the library and see what we mean!) It is rumored that he has even been in Mr. Ripley's "Believe it Or Not!" Not many men can attain the heights he has and keep a level head. He is humble, and from what we hear, takes none of the credit he really deserves. One student congratulated him one night, and he modestly replied, "Oh, I only go along for the ride!" Thanks a lot, Dick Stewart for the fine job you have done. (Wouldn't you like to hear a tape of one of his "inspiring" half-time talks?)

Lions Sponsor Basketball Game

FHC Faculty Wins With 55-43 Victory

The strong faculty five again thundered to victory with a score of 55-43, as they crushed their opponents, the 3rd year married students in a breath-taking basketball game, Tuesday night, March 5, in the college gym.

Once again, congratulations to the Lions of 1956-57 and good shooting. Senior college scouts line up to the right.

(Ed. note: The date for basketball tryouts is March 26.)

Indians Manager Speaks At Chapel

Kerby Farrell, manager of the Cleveland Indians, was guest speaker at the chapel exercises at Freed-Hardeman College on Tuesday, February 12. Farrell is a former student of Freed-Hardeman College where he was very active in sports, especially baseball. Since leaving FHC, he has been outstanding in the field of baseball. He has played in various leagues including two major leagues.

Last year Farrell was with the Indianapolis League as manager and had a very successful season. He has been with the Cleveland organization for ten years and this year replaces Al Lopez as manager of the Indians.

Farrell left Henderson Monday for Tucson, Arizona, where he will open his spring training period.

Team were M. Hill, A. Hill, Joe Taylor, Hufstutter, Lemons and Williams.

This was the second victory for the faculty this year.
