

Sherrill James Homecoming Queen

J. W. Bader Memorial Building To Be Dedicated By Dixon

November 27-28 will be F-HC annual Homecoming.

The start of the two days activities will begin Wednesday morning at 10:00 a. m. when C. V. Newman, of Batesville, Miss., will speak on "Christianity and Business". The same evening at 7:30 Dr. Adron Doran, President of Morehead State College, Morehead, Ky., will present a special lecture at the Church of Christ building on the subject of "Gratitude".

Following the devotional service there will be special music in the college auditorium. The program will be presented by Ron Beckett,

F-HC; John Bob Hall, Nashville; and John Darnall of Murray, Ky., who are all formerly of the Cavaliers quartet. At 9:45 p. m. there will be fellowship and music in the student center.

Thursday morning at 8:45 will be the Alumni Board meeting, followed by the dedication of the J. W. Bader Memorial Building at 10:00 a. m. Dean E. C. Gardner will be in charge of the devotional service and G. K. Wallace, vice-president, will introduce all campaign workers. Chairman of the Advisory Committee, James Dedmon, will speak on "An Achievement for Christian Education".

Next, K. T. Edwards, chairman of Board of Directors, will speak on "A Step of Progress". A dedication and tribute to the Bader family will then be given by President, H. A. Dixon. Under the direction of Kelley Doyle F-HC chorus will present a program.

Beginning at 11:30 dinner will be served by Morrison's in the cafeteria, student center and Administration building at $1.50 per plate to visitors.

J. E. Williams, president of the Alumni Association, will preside at the alumni meeting beginning at 1:00 p. m. in Chapel Hall. Music

Paris Sophomore To Reign Thanksgiving

Reigning over the F-HC homecoming this year will be Sherrill James, sophomore honor student and chorus member.

After a week of balloting elected as maids for the sophomore class are Sherry Holmes, Dearborn, Mich., and Jackie Balentine, Lauderdale, Ala.

Freshman maids are Sharon DePriest, Linden, Tenn., and Judy Hammitt, Pittsfield, Ill.

Sherrill is a former resident of Henderson where her father, B. B. James, was minister of the Henderson church of Christ. She is a graduate of Grove High School in Paris where she was a member of the honor club, chorus, student publications, and F. H. A. At F-HC she is an Alpha Tau and a former member of the famed S. N. E. A. trio.

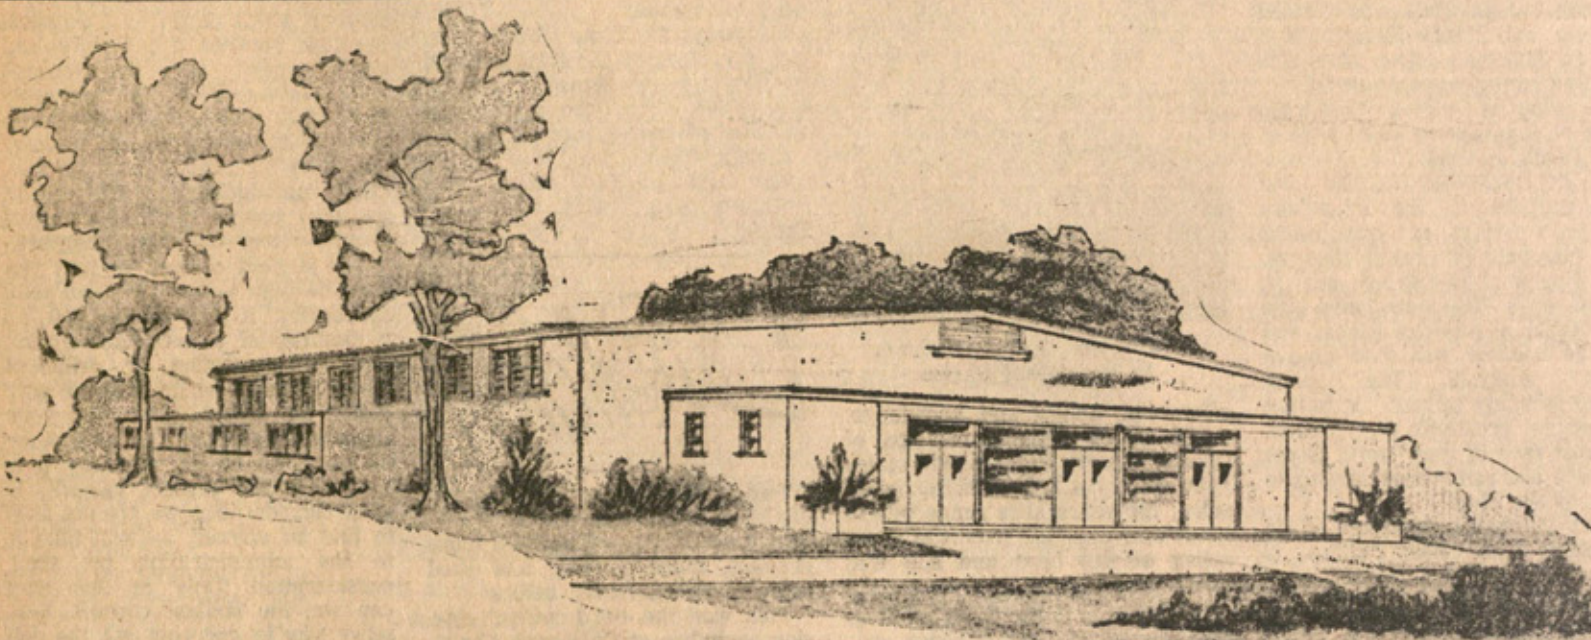

Sherry Holmes is a graduate of Fordson High School where she was in dramatics. At F-HC she is an Alpha Tau and was on the honor roll.

At Mars Hill Bible School Jackie was homecoming queen, in dramatics, honor club, and student government. A Philo and chorus member at F-HC, Jackie is interested in pre-nursing.

Sharon is a Phi Kappa and cheerleader at F-HC. In high school she was class officer, Beta club member, and 4-H club member.

Judy, a Sigma Rho and student affairs committee member, was junior-senior queen in high school as well as winner of the Danforth Foundation citizenship award.

These five will form the court for homecoming celebrations to be held at halftime of the Lion-Bison basketball game in J. W. Bader Memorial Building, 2:0 p. m., Nov. 28.

J. W. Bader Memorial Building will be dedicated by President H. A. Dixon in the homecoming ceremonies,

Nov. 28, 10:00 a. m. The annual basketball clash between F-HC and David Lipscomb will be at 2:30 p. m.

Alpha Taus Are Winners In Annual Speech Festival

By Randy Patterson

The Alpha Tau Lambda social club took top honors in the annual speech festival held during the past two weeks at F-HC. Complete results were announced by festival director Mr. James Swinney at the speech banquet Friday night, November 1, in the college cafeteria.

In the first section of the festival held Saturday, October 26, the Alpha Taus won nine first places to earn 66 total points. In second place were the Philos with 40 points, followed by the Phi Kappas with 19 points, and Sigma Rhos with 14 points.

After four rounds of debate, held Monday through Friday, October 28-31, the final totals were completed. In debate the Alpha Taus again took first place with 60 points. Sigma Rhos took second place with 40 points, and Phi Kappas and Philos gained 30 points each.

The final totals for the festival placed the Alpha Taus first, Sigma Rhos second, Philos third, and Phi Kappas fourth.

The Sigma Rhos had the only undefeated team in the debate meets, Jerry Harvill and James Wilcutt. The second team was Tommy Scott and Dempsey Scott from the Alpha Taus with a three won-one lost record. In third place was the team of Terry Pace and Evelda Marshall who also had a three-one record.

The best club award, the social club having the best two teams, went to the Alpha Taus. In second place were the Sigma Rhos.

Tommy Scott, a Henderson freshman, was named the best debater. Dempsey Scott, a Flint, Michigan, sophomore, was second best debater. Jerry Harvill, a third year student from Missouri, was third best debater.

Randy Patterson was named most effective speaker, Evelda Marshall was declared second, and Ladonna Wilson was third. All three are Alpha Taus.

In women's Bible reading competition Ladonna Wilson took first place, Jewel Ward, second, and Sherrill James third. In men's division Randy Patterson was first, Gerald Cowan second, and Jerry Harvill third.

In poetry reading Ladonna Wilson was first, Sherrill James second, and Margurite Loh third. In men's division Tommy Scott was first, Arthur Pigman second, and Jerry Harvill third.

Patty Daniel won first place in monologue and Randy Patterson won first in monologue, men's division. Sue Rogers and John

Assignment F-HC

By Dempsey Scott

While recently visiting on the campus of Harding College I saw Dave Graff. Dave sends greetings and hopes to be here at Homecoming.

The spirit of F-HC students is evident at Harding this year. Doug and Kathie Kostowski, Duane Warden, Wilmer Rikard and Deanna Summers might have something to do with that.

Spirit is an amazing thing here at F-HC. With basketball games beginning next Monday, November 11th, we'll have a chance to show that spirit to our team. The gymnasium is about ready for our first home game, next Thursday, November 14th, against Lambuth Jr. Varsity. You certainly don't want to miss the first victory in our gym. See you at the games!

Mid-term examinations start tomorrow. I know you don't need anyone to remind you but I only suggest that you write your letter of explanation to your parents now so any passing grade will look good to them.

To turn to something a little more interesting. THE STUDENT PRINCE is the name of the Saturday night movie, November 19. It is in COLOR. The familiar tale tells of the young heir to a European throne in the 19th century who falls in love with a maid while at Heidelberg University.

Hasn't the competition been keen this year among the social clubs? Intramural football, speech festival, and chapel programs are the highlights so far. This is a good sign of a good year. (I read tea leaves too.)

Twenty-four days and our first vacation; doesn't it seem that school is going fast. Little too fast for some. . . the other night in the dorm the telephone rang and a boy bowed his head. Bells seem to regulate our lives around here. We sleep, eat, go to classes, and pray all by the ringing of bells. (Edgar Allan Poe would feel at home.)

CLUBS MEET, WORK, PLAY

HOMEMAKERS CLUB

Betty Douglas was installed as president of the Homemakers Club at their meeting on October 8. Others who were installed as officers by repeating the creed and pledges are: Janice Beasley, vice-president; Linda Cheek, secretary; Jerry Lynn Smith, treasurer; Lola Gaines, reporter; and Jewel Ward, program chairman. Miss Joyce Woods is the sponsor of the club.

The members were initiated, and each was presented with a yellow rose and a program booklet for the year.

Plans for future meetings were made, and the club decided to buy a Betty lamp to hand in the home economics building. The Betty lamp is the official symbol of the Homemakers Club.

THESPIANS DEBATE CLUB

A trip to Wichita is in the headlines for the Debate Club. The organization plans to send three teams to the meetings which will be held November 22-23.

Beginning in November, the club plans to debate a few of the colleges in this area.

The club would like to remind everyone that they are still selling "Sounds of F-HC". If you haven't bought yours, do so as soon as possible.

PHI THETA KAPPA

The members of Phi Theta Kappa are trying to guide the club back to its original purpose—that of a service club. Plans for initiation are being made, and the club plans to keep a scrapbook. The club is trying to find some slogan or motto that will be suitable for our school.

EVANGELISTIC FORUM

One of the goals of the Evangelistic Forum is to keep the attendance up at the meetings. The organization is striving to have one-half of the student body attending this semester.

The long range goal of Evangelistic Forum is to make each person more zealous for mission work. This is to be done by different speakers, discussions, etc.

S. N. E. A. CLUB

S.N.E.A. is planning the homecoming breakfast for the S.N.E.A. alumni which is always held on Thanksgiving morning.

The club usually has a Christmas party and a banquet in the spring, and the members have the privilege of attending the convention which will be held later.

For money raising purposes, the club serves at different banquets.

SIGMA RHOS

The Sigma Rhos are bounding in sports with the aid of their new sports captains, Garvin Claiborne and Judy Hammitt. The girls are doing extra well in volleyball. Jimmy and Johnny Moss are supporting the club by keeping it on top in horseshoes.

Ray Medlock is the club's new president, and they are setting their goals high for the rest of the semester. Howard Oliver is their new co-sponsor.

PHI KAPPAS

The Phi Kappas are proud to say that they won first place in football by defeating the Philos.

In the girl's volleyball games, the club has a one-one record.

Red with white sweatshirts that have crests on them have been ordered by some of the club members.

PHILOS

This year seems to be very promising for the Philos, the oldest social club on campus, under the capable guidance of their new sponsor, Howard Trull.

The Philos are especially proud of their football boys since they came in second in the championship game by one point.

All the members of the Philos will have an opportunity to participate in something to help promote their club.

FRENCH CLUB

At the second meeting of the French Club on October 10, the resignation of the vice-president, Gerald Cowan, was announced. Monda Alexander was elected to fill the office.

A guest speaker, Miss Beverly Hopkins, discussed her trip to France. Those present then participated in a question and answer session concerning things in and about France.

A cake, baked by the president, Rae Swinney, and punch was served to those present.

Other officers of the club are Diane DeShazo, secretary, and Rosa Whitehead, treasurer.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Social Science Club of F-HC is composed mostly of history majors and people interested in current affairs. The club meets to discuss current world problems. They plan to visit the state legislature later this year.

David Varner is president of the club, Teresa Quinn is vice-president, and Jerri Cole is secretary.

PHI BETA LAMBDA

Ray Penna was elected treasurer at the last meeting of Phi Beta Lambda. John Hall was elected reporter, and Nancy Humphries is the new historian. The other officers had already been elected.

The club is selling Christmas cards as a means to raise part of their financial funds.

PREACHERS CLUB

The purpose of the Preachers Club is to better prepare young men who plan to preach the gospel. This goal is carried out in several ways. The young men give short talks at various times, and then he sponsor will then give a critical analysis. The young preachers study sermon structure and special problems that preachers must face in their work. Guest speakers are sometimes invited to speak to the club.

Larry Mitchell is president of the Preachers Club. Dale Phillips is vice-president, and Don McBrayer is sergeant at arms.

PEMM CLUB

The P.E.M.M. Club, a club for majors and minors in physical education is sponsored by Coach Hoyt Kirk and Miss Sylvia Johnson. Mark Fields is president of the club and Gerald Michaels is vice-president. George Holcomb is secretary and Judy Hammitt is treasurer.

The club was in charge of a pass, punt, and kick contest for boys ages 8-11 on Saturday, October 26.

Career opportunities for those majoring in physical education was discussed at the last meeting.

SPEECH FESTIVAL From—1

Gardner were in second place, and Jane Soapes and Richard Keel were third.

In extemporaneous speaking EVELDA Marshall and Terry Pace were in first place, Jerri Cole and Ken Smith second place, and Diane DeShazo and Dempsey Scott third place.

Jean Rollins and Rubel Shelley took first in after dinner preliminaries. EVELDA Marshall and Randy Patterson were second and Sue Huffard and Clark Freeman third.

Cheryl Gay and Carl Holladay earned first in original oratory. For second place EVELDA Marshall and Joan De Young tied. Calvin Warpula earned second place in men's division. Meribeth Downing and John Stacey earned third place positions.

In radio announcing Anne Freeman and Tony Simmons took first place, Ladonna Wilson and Calvin Warpula second, and Barbara Neely and Rubel Shelley third.

F-HC Counseling Service Offered: "Miss Annie"

What will be your vocation? This question is universal. Every year thousands of American college students ask themselves this question.

To many it is puzzling, to others it is not so questionable; but to all it is at some time a problem.

Through the years, due to this provocative problem; vocational counseling has become a natural part of education.

Because counseling is felt to be so important Freed-Hardeman has a counseling service. With Miss Annie Davidson presiding, a great quantity of new material has been ordered this year, and according to her, "anything we do not have, that is needed by the students, we will promptly order."

This phrase from Mrs. Davidson, denotes the quality of our service. She loves the work, and generously offers her ability and knowledge.

Mr. James Williams, principal of Chester County High School, states "you could not have a better counselor; for years Miss Annie taught math and presided over the counseling affairs here and she was dearly loved by all."

The office is in the GRC building. Mrs. Davidson's office hours are: 8:00 to 11:00 a. m. Monday 8:00 to 5:00 except 12:00 to 1:00 Tuesday

8:00 to 11:00 a. m. Wednesday 8:00 to 11:00 a. m. Friday

According to Coach Stewart, the most important thing in life, besides living right, is your career.

If you are having trouble deciding what you will make of yourself, or if you are having qualms about your present idea of a vocation, drop in to look the material over.

Skyrocket Enjoys 40 Years At F-HC

Nov. 1923, it was decided that a school paper should be published in connection with Freed-Hardeman College. This paper was to be managed and published by the students, having on the staff only one member of the faculty, who was to act as advisor.

Bro. W. C. Hall, then president of the school, offered a prize for the best suggestion, for the name of the publication. Miss Ethel Mai Jones, who submitted the name "Sky-Rocket", was awarded first prize.

Evangelistic Forum Members Report OCC Meeting

Evangelistic forum

"Every heart without Christ is a mission field, and every heart with Christ is a missionary." The preceding quotation is the motto of the Freed-Hardeman College Evangelistic Forum. In each of its meetings, members are urged to make the mission field smaller by increasing the number of missionaries.

The Forum held its regular meeting on October 23 in Chapel Hall. After a short devotional, four members of the Forum who spent several days at an evangelistic meeting at Oklahoma Christian College gave a report on their experiences there.

John Hall said that he profited most from the experience by gaining a broader understanding of the spiritual need of the world.

To Calvin Warpula, the devotionals were the most important and inspiring events of the trip.

Alfred Behel and Wayne Burger recounted incidents of the trip and admonished the audience to be missionaries for Christ.

After their reports, Missionary Glen Dodds showed a film supplementing his talk about the mission work in Canada.

Following the film, Jerry Harvill, president of the forum stated its goal for this semester—to increase the attendance to at least one half of the student body.

Closing the meeting, the group sang "Come By Here Lord" and its theme song, "The Gospel Is For All".

Two of the greatest days in my life were October 22 and 23. I was drawn nearer to God and did more praying, more singing, and shed more tears than ever before.

This was the third annual mission workshop at Oklahoma Christian College. Persons were there from Belgium and Bermuda, Scotland and Samoa, France and Thailand, Nigeria and Venezuela, Germany and Canada. Four hundred Christians from all over the world converged into one mass effort for Christ.

On Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. Otis Gatewood spoke to an audience of 900 on "The Challenge to Students in Evangelizing the World." He pleaded for youth to dedicate and devote their lives to spreading the gospel.

On the wall behind him were printed in large bold letters "We Can Evangelize the World." Below this were long scrolls with 95 countries in South America, Asia, Africa, and Europe that do not have one American missionary. With a moving conclusion to his stirring sermon Mr. Gatewood asked all who would to come forward and sign their names under one of those 95 countries, determined that they would preach the gospel to those hungry souls.

Students poured into the aisles as the words of "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow" floated in the air. Two hundred eighty-five young people, almost double our present number of missionaries, stood before the audience strongly determined to meet the challenge and command of the Lord. With all faith and courage in God they sang "Cum Ba Yah. My Lord" and "I Know the Lord Will Find a Way For Me." All the assembly that could kneel in fervent prayer. This was the greatest think I have ever witnessed.

If you would like to learn how to develop dedication and devotion to God and what you can do to help spread the gospel to every creature, attend the Evangelistic Forum every second and fourth Monday nights.

December 5, 6—Thopian Fall Play

Thespians To Present "Ugly American"

Be sure to mark your calendar for December 5 and 6. These are the dates when the Thespians will present their fall play, "The Ugly American".

A great amount of work is being spent on the set and scenery for the play. There will be six different changes of scenes in the presentation.

Those who are in the play are now practicing in order to give us an outstanding program; therefore let's attend their performances when the time arrives.

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an organization which serves as a connecting link between the faculty and administration and the student body. For it to be of the most benefit to the school, it is imperative that all the students and faculty members be familiar with its functions and duties. For this reason we urge you to know your representative and the other members of the student council, so that you may be able to use them as your spokesmen. It may be that you, as a member of a particular group, have a suggestion or criticism which you feel would in some way better the school. If so, tell your representative, or some other member, so he or she may present it to the student council. If after consideration we are not able to find an answer, we will take it to the administration for their consideration. Only in this way can we, the student council, best serve you in carrying out the job you elected us to do.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Randy Patterson, Editor Sky Rocket Campus

Dear Randy:

Congratulations on your initial issue of the SKY ROCKET. I read it with great interest and I commend you on its appearance and content. I anticipate that you will present some outstanding editions. You are in position to contribute much to our work. We are grateful to you for the hard work you are willing to devote to this important publication. Best wishes to you and your staff for this year. If I may be of service to you at any time, please let me know.

Sincerely,

STUDENT AFFAIRS PLANS PARTIES

The Student Affairs, consisting of representatives of the four social clubs, met and discussed some of the activities for the year. The first thing to be discussed was the problem of the Valentine party. After pro and con discussion it was voted on and passed by the majority of the members to make this year's Valentine party a boy-ask-girl party. The girls will be given a chance to ask the boys to the Christmas party. The reason felt for the boy to do the asking for the Valentine party was the formality of the occasion and the expense to the boy.

The Halloween party was discussed and the committees were set up to carry out the different functions.

Freed-Hardeman College Chorus To Give Thanksgiving Program

By Brenda Smith

The F-HC chorus members seem to be displaying their talents very nicely this year. There are forty-eight members this year; eighteen old members are back and thirty new members came in.

The chorus has already begun their program for the year. They recently sang at Wednesday night services at the Henderson church of Christ. They have several programs in the near future. They travel to Tupelo, Miss., Nov. 8 and to Lexington, Tenn., Nov. 28.

This busy group doesn't believe in "all work and no play," though. They always enjoy themselves, especially on chorus trips. They travel by bus which always causes some kind of excitement such as losing a wheel, having a flat tire, or blowing up. Mr. Kelly Doyle, chorus director and bus driver states, "if anyone has $15,000 he wants to get rid of, they can buy the chorus a new bus."

On one trip last year the bus had a flat tire in "fifty below zero" weather. The loyal male chorus members filed out in their suits and white shirts and proceeded to repair the tire.

They like to pull tricks on Mr. Doyle. Last year one person would tell a pointless joke, then everyone would laugh except Mr. Doyle. They wanted to break the routine of things so when Mr. Doyle told them to file into the bus, they filed in the front door and out the back door forming a circle as they marched.

F-HC Debaters Take Top Honors In First Meet

Representatives of Harding college met on the Freed-Hardeman campus Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19, for the third annual Christian college debate meet.

Freed-Hardeman college took top honors in three areas of competition: best four-man team, best two-man, and best individual debater. By having the best four-man team, Freed-Hardeman retained traveling trophy that goes to winning school.

Winners in the areas were:
Best four-man team: 1. Freed-Hardeman; 2. Harding college; 3. David Lipscomb college.

Best two-man team: 1. Wapula-Patterson, Freed-Hardeman; 2. Warden-Kostowski, Harding; 3. Holladay-Harvill, Freed-Hardeman.

Best individual debater: 1. Calvin Wapula, Freed-Hardeman; 2. Randy Patterson, Freed-Hardeman; 3. Doug Kostowski, Harding.

The tournament was won in 1960 by Harding and in 1961 by Freed-Hardeman.

ALPHA TAUS PICK COTTON

THE ALPHA TAU SOCIAL CLUB recently picked 1105 pounds of cotton in a fund-raising effort.

Sixteen eager and anxious members of the Alpha Tau Lambda social club invaded J. W. Johnson's cotton field early one Saturday morning to pick cotton for a fund raising project. Accompanying the group were sponsors John McDonald and Porter King.

For some in the group this was a news experience, while other were "old pros". Porter King picked a total of 155 pounds and won the prize of two dollars, which he generously contributed to the club.

The same afternoon thirteen faithful members returned to pick for several more hours. A total of 1,105 pounds was picked which added $36.05 to the club's treasury. Cotton picking

Alpha Taus Present "Everyman"

A modern version of the morality play "Everyman" was presented by the Alpha Tau social club October 24. The play was rewritten by Mr. and Mrs. Porter King, John McDonald and Dempsey Scott.

The Alpha Taus followed the Phi Kappa social club in presenting a program of comedy with serious undertones.

When Death, Tony Simmons, disguised as a preacher visited Everyman, Terry Pace, he discovered that he could not take his friends Fellowship, Lou Rife; Riches, Tommy Scott; Glamour, Sherrill James; Desire, Rosemary Davenport with him.

Knowledge, Don McBrayer, came and told him he could only take Good Deeds, Dale Phillips, with him. Everyman then turned to Good Deeds and then he was taken away by Death.

Student Council Plans Homecoming

The Student Council has been hard at work this year in a number of ways. The members have been busy setting up committees and planning coming events.

The council has set up a devotional committee for the purpose of bettering the devotions. A committee has also been set up to keep the students informed as to the place and time of devotions.

The council this year is trying to answer all complaints handed to it. The members feel that in doing this they can fulfill their obligations to the student body.

There are also plans underway for the homecoming court. This year's plans furnish much promise of having a memorable homecoming.

The Student Council will continue to work for the student body throughout the year. The members do, however, request the full cooperation of all students.

MCDONALD GIVES ORGAN RECITAL

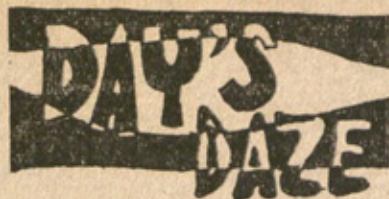

John McDonald, organist, presented a recital October 29 in chapel hall in the second performance of the annual Artist Series.

Mr. McDonald began his recital with "Variations of America", an American piece. He continued from this twentieth century number to the sixteenth century with English, German, French and Dutch music. He concluded with a number of his personal liking, "Prelude and Fugue in E Flat Major" by Bach.

Mr. McDonald is a former member of the American Guild of Organists and is very much interested in starting a chapter in Jackson. He is also a member of the

SKYROCKET-3

By Anne Taylor

Many interesting things have happened since the last SKYROCKET.

Recently the sophomores had to recite the first 18 lines of "Canterbury Tales." Linda Proffitt struggled through her lines. She had a bit of trouble remembering what a "shire" is. Mr. King gave her several clues, such as Chester-shire and Worcestershire. "Now, Linda, what is a 'shire'?" Mr. King asked again. Linda decisively replied, "Oh, that. Now I know. It's a type of hot sauce."

The Alpha Taus are the "cotton-pickingest" club on campus. Chuck Joiner, although, is the champion cotton picker. He picked 140 pounds in 4 hours. That's almost as much as Mr. McDonald and Mr. King picked, combined, in half the time!

Coach Kirk's daughter came home from the cotton field and told her father that she'd been picking cotton in a "toad sack."

With all the modern inventions, you'd think someone would come up with a shoe-tying machine for Jane Soapes. Shirley Hamilton is fortunate enough to be the one who ties Jane's shoes before PE classes.

Beth Broderick is always begging someone to carry her piggy-back up to the third floor of Dixon. If you see a bunch of hunch-back girls on campus, you'll know who is to blame.

Anyone ever heard of black toothpaste? Joyce Powers has. It's made by mixing black shoe polish and one's favorite brand of toothpaste. Joyce, we think you'd better drop your suit against a certain toothpaste manufacturer and declare war on your suite mates.

Bonnie Barksdale is trying to reset the tone on our campus. She's tired of the old "boy-ask-girl-for-date" custom. Bonnie likes the idea of "girl-ask-boy" for a change. Right, Jerry Hale?

Girls, if you hear rocks on your ledge, don't be alarmed. It's only Kay Gross trying to get in the dorm.

Has anyone ever noticed that Denny Brown has the most blushing ears on campus? This can be attributed to several things. Get Denny to tell you all about it.

Mrs. Whitten told Miss Perry she had never seen a place where more mistakes could be made than in a library.

Has the old fad of stuffing phone booths hit again? A new fad seems to be running a close second—stuffing little sports cars. For more information, see Denny Brown, Jim Fuller, Blip Boling, Bill Miller or Bruce Grimes.

It seems Van Phillips has introduced a new fashion for men in the line of sleep wear. I understand all the boys at Paul Gray secretly envy him. What about it, Van?

Jill Spain has a beautiful 25 dollar, Wilson tennis racket in her room. She said some boy on campus gave it to her for a souvenir. Funny thing, she can't remember who the boy was.

In closing, I'd like to call to mind the words of our own campus philosopher, Mr. Thomas Scott. "Character is like embroidery; it is made stitch by stitch."

American Musicological Society.

Mr. McDonald graduated from David Lipscomb College in 1959. He graduated from Northwestern University with an M.M. in 1961 and has been at F-HC since this time.

We've certainly been blessed with beautiful weather and extended wearing of fall clothes. The dark print tailored dresses with matching or co-ordinating sweaters for the cool days have really met with approving glances.

Cotton has been the featured material throughout the summer and is by no means bowing out for fall and winter. Gaily figured long- and roll-up-sleeve blouses, made of beautifully woven cotton, are popping up everywhere. They are worn with jumpers and matching or contrasting skirts. A good variety of blouses can transform a small school wardrobe into a plentiful one.

Corduroy and wool jumpers are gradually showing up—just enough to let us know they're going to be popular for fall and winter months. They range from straight sacks worn loose or with tie belts to the stunning A-lines. Again the blouses worn with these highly accentuate the color and line of this collegiate set.

Until recently, patched clothes were rarely worn; but it seems now that all the guys' clothing, ranging from sweaters to sport coats, have patches at the elbows. It's to be admitted, however, that these patches add much to wool and alpaca sweaters. The "elbow patch" is here for the season and represents popular wear for any collegian.

The jac shirt seems to be making its way into the casual wear for the guys. It is styled for perfect fit and prevents the sloppy bulge around the waist. It is worn with slim tapered pants and makes for a neat outfit.

Intramural Football, Tough, Close

The opening day of intramural football began with victories for both the Philos and Sigma Rhos. The first game saw the Philos marching over the Alpha Taus 16-0. A spirited Sigma Rho team, aided by a stolen ball by Eddie Boling, turned back numerous drives to edge the Phi Kappas 15-14.

The following day, as play grew rougher, the Alpha Taus and the Philos picked up easy wins. With Don McBrayer at the controls the Alpha Taus downed the Sigma Rhos 12-0. In the second game the Philos exhibited a strong ground game behind the running of David Arnold and trounced the Phi Kappas 20-6.

After a slow start the Phi Kappas bounced back with successive wins over the Alpha Taus and the Sigma Rhos.

As the race grew tighter and interest heightened, the Phi Kappas nosed out a hard fighting Philo team 18-14. The Alpha Taus made their bid for the top spot with a come-from-behind victory over the Sigma Rhos. Again Don McBrayer highlighted the action with a game-saving touchdown sprint.

The importance of the final games could be seen in the high spirits and hard play. With the championship hanging in the balance, thrilling and well-executed plays were frequent. The Philos nipped a pepped-up but out-manned Sigma Rho team by the score of 20-18.

The Phi Kappas followed suit by turning back the Alpha Taus, 10-6, in a tight defensive battle. Among the standouts for the Phi Kappas on defense were George Holcomb, Ralph Craighead, and Travis Hannah. These games set the stage for the showdown between the Phi Kappas and the Philos for the football crown.

PHI KAPPAS WIN FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

With one minute to play the Phi Kappas took the kickoff and called long signals to run the clock out and win the intramural football contest against the Philos, Thursday, Oct. 24, on the F-HC Chitwood athletic field.

The first action of the ballgame came when Phi Kappa kicked off to the Philo's. The ball was returned to center field and after one first down the ball changed sides. With three complete passes the Phi Kappas picked up their first down. When trying for their next one the huge line of Philos pushed the Phi Kappas back to their own five yard line where they were forced to punt. The first quarter closed with no one scoring. The Phi Kappas took the ball on their own ten yard line and drove down to the Philo thirty yard line. Two plays later Travis Hannah dug into paydirt, after which Allen Prichard picking up two extra points making the score eight to nothing.

After the kick off Richard Keel took a twenty-three yard pass from David Arnold to score. The conversion was made with a pass in the left flat to Richard Keel, making the score eight to seven in favor of Phi Kappa.

Big David Arnold got off to a good start in the second half by breaking loose to the Phi Kappa's fifteen, but Phi Kappa had different plans than that of David Arnold. The ball couldn't be moved so Phi Kappa took over on their own fifteen and tried to pick up a first down but it was to no avail so they were forced to punt. The Philo's again attempted to move the ball but had their first pass intercepted by Larry Decker. With things going real good for Phi Kappa, they moved the ball down to the thirty yard line. The next play was a beautiful pass to big Jim Fuller for a T. D. Tommy Burnett ran the extra points to make the score sixteen to seven. Instead of this being a sign of defeat to the Philo's it seemingly fired them up. With 210 pounds of will power and muscle big David Arnold took the ball for the next eight plays to drive all the way down the field to pay dirt and then ran the extra points to make the score sixteen to fifteen.
